DAVID LAZARRO

The Tundra Swan

Hand Carved, 31 inches

David has been an active wood carver for over 40 years. He has received awards from the prestigious Ward Foundation Decoy Show of Maryland; Mystic Maritime International Art Show; the Globe Photograph Contest; the Connecticut Wildfowl Decoy Carving Competition, and the Kittery Woodcarving Show of Kittery, Maine. He carves birds indigenous to the area he grew up in, using his observations of the birds in their natural habitat. His love of the ocean drew him to begin carving whales and sharks. He captures the grace and beauty of these mammals of the sea.
